

Yonder is a documentation solution provider with its roots in the aviation industry, but now serving a wide range of B2B / enterprise customers. With our SaaS product, we help companies stay in control of their content and bring reliable, role-specific information to frontline employees.

With just over 20 employees, your work directly impacts the company's success, so we are looking for team members who love working on a product and live by the mantra of getting stuff done.

To strengthen our product team, we are looking for a

Product Manager (80-100%, m/f/d)

As part of the product team for our cloud-based content management solution, you will work closely with our customers, our development team, our sales team, and our customer support team.

If you like to shape a young product in a fast-paced environment, you will feel right at home with us. Despite working in a structured manner, you are comfortable handling uncertainty, ambiguity and chaos that come along with fast growth.

Your Mission

- You are walking in our customer's shoes: You identify, discuss, and solve our customer's needs proactively – ideally before the customer starts talking of "problems"
- Shape the product vision and product roadmap in close collaboration with our CPO
- Prioritize features and resources, considering customer needs, product roadmap, and technology roadmap
- Break down complex problems and write clear specifications in close collaboration with our development team
- Regularly interact with our customers, our sales team, our customer support team
- Regularly interact with our development team to make the specified product and features a reality
- Contribute to testing and documentation of new features.

About You

- Experience in product management, preferably in a B2B SaaS company
- You would describe yourself rather as a generalist than as a specialist
- Irrespective of your educational background, you are comfortable with technology and enjoy working with technologists
- Confident in communicating new ideas and challenge conventional thinking
- Willing and able to challenge various strong characters, including some of the company founders
- Excellent abstract thinking and excellent communication skills

- Previous experience with SCRUM is a plus
- Despite being execution-oriented, you never lose the big picture
- Ambitious, self-motivated, and able to work independently
- Willingness to learn many new skills quickly
- Able to endure the occasional tough days and challenges to achieve big success
- Fluent in German and English (any other language is a plus)
- Ability to work in our Zurich office on a regular basis

Why Yonder?

- Flat hierarchies and fast decision-making
- We value everyone's inputs and ideas, but expect to be tasked with implementing them yourself
- Blame-free error culture inspired by aviation
- Modern offices located in Zurich Oerlikon, just a few minutes by train from downtown Zürich
- Flexible working hours, with possibility to work from home – or anywhere else for that matter
- Bring your own device: You decide what you want to work on, we add 100 CHF to your monthly net salary

If you are a person with an interest in going beyond the call of duty and evolving your career as the company grows, this is the perfect opportunity for you.
